May 20th 2008,

Dear Madam and Mister,

This is in reply to your advertisement for French teacher to foreigners.

I am very interested in this position because I believe I can bring to your University my undercultural understanding (native cultural and my background in Asian culture) and especially, my certificate (DAEFLE) and my work placement (CESOP) core training included on going didactic components, as well as practical work; my skills to produce teaching materials for courses, and to managing group activities, including the design of novel programmes of collective activities, etc.

During DAEFLE, CESOP and private tutoring, I really enjoy teaching.

Over the years, I have gained valuable experience in various fields: in legal and administration, in addition to my background in temporary jobs, I acquired and possessed to leave one's country 'skills and teaching 'skills: flexibility, autonomy, capacity to adapt and extreme mobility; I place great value on quality work and on interpersonal relations: team spirit, cultural awareness and good ability to adapt.

To envisage the life abroad is something which does not slow down me, on the contrary I am enthusiastic about that one and it is what I plan for several years.

I have enclosed a copy of my CV, as you requested in your advertisement. I hope that my application retains your attention, Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require further details.

I am held at your disposal to demonstrate you my motivations and my future prospects during an eventual interview.

Looking forward to answer of your part I ask you to approve, Madam or Mister, the expression of my distinguished feelings.

Ms. Piou Frédérique.
